

City Council Memorandum

To: Mayor Fasbender & City Councilmembers
From: Kori Land, City Attorney
John Hinzman, Community Development Director
Date: December 18, 2023
Item: 2nd Reading\Adopt Ordinance: Cannabis and Hemp

Council Action Requested:

Consider 2nd Reading and adoption of Ordinance Amendments to allow the sale of CBD products at on-sale and off-sale liquor establishments. The Council considered 1st Reading at the December 4th City Council meeting. A simple majority of Council is necessary for action.

Background Information:

The City adopted licensing and zoning CBD ordinances last year that allow for the sale of CBD products at licensed establishments in certain zoning districts. For reference, CBD products contain less than 0.3% THC and are now considered “low potency cannabis.” The ordinances that were adopted last year prohibit the sales of CBD products at on-sale and off-sale liquor establishments. As you know, the legislature adopted legislation legalizing adult use cannabis in 2023, which specifically allows for CBD products to be sold at off-sale liquor establishments. The ordinance amendments proposed remove this prohibition as well as the prohibition at on-sale establishments and would therefore allow CBD products to be sold at both on-sale and off-sale liquor establishments. The new legislation also sets fee limits on what cities may charge for the city registration of these businesses. The amended fee in the fee schedule mirrors the statutorily authorized “registration” fee that cities may impose for retail cannabis uses.

While the new state legislation allows the use of adult use cannabis, it does not authorize the sale, so until the Office of Cannabis Management has a process to license any adult use cannabis or CBD businesses and model ordinances are prepared, the City’s current ordinances for CBD products are still valid. Any on-sale or off-sale liquor establishment who want to sell CBD products will need a license from the City to do so. As soon as model ordinances are proposed, we will introduce additional revisions to the existing ordinances to comply with the state regulations.
